

ABOUT THE STATE

Happenings of Interest from Different Sections.

Mr. and Mrs. Henry LaBombard observed the 50th anniversary of their marriage Saturday at their home in Burlington.

Milton Archer, demoted over financial affairs, committed suicide at his home in Chester Depot by taking parison green. He was 42 years old and born in Hartland.

John Higgins, landlord of the Addison house in Middlebury for 20 years, gives up the house to-morrow. Although his plans are not complete, he expects to give up the hotel business.

A double golden wedding is to be held in Wells River, Sept. 30, of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Pope and Mr. and Mrs. Sylvanus Mitchem, at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Pope.

John Nolen of Cambridge, Mass., landscape artist, writer, architect and city planner, is coming to Burlington this week to study housing conditions there and will give a lecture Thursday evening.

Both the Hotel Vermont and the Van Ness in Burlington will be kept open this winter, but the Hotel Vermont will be run on the European plan exclusively and the Van Ness will be kept open for rooms only, no meals being served there.

Rev. Dr. Davidson of Burlington, secretary of the State Baptist association, refused to accept the $6000 raise in salary voted him at the annual state meeting in Rutland. He suggested that the raise might go to the fund to help some of the ministers who receive meager salaries.

Joviete Pinard, one of the pioneers of a large colony that came from Canada and helped build up St. Johnsbury in the fifties, died at the home of a daughter in Montreal Sept. 23 at the age of 78 years. Mr. Pinard was a veteran of the Civil war and on his return established a box factory in St. Johnsbury.

Winoski has a fire bug. On the night of Sept. 20 the barn of Mrs. J. W. Stephenson was burned, the night of Sept. 22 the barn of Thomas Parizo was destroyed by fire. Thursday night, the barn of Oliver Parizo was burned, and Friday night a barn belonging to J. C. Flint, superintendent of the water department. All started in a similar manner and at about the same time of night. The authorities are investigating.

Because of the similarity of names, Raymond Bushey of St. Albans received notice to the effect that his automobile license had been revoked, at which he was somewhat surprised, having had no accident or trouble of any kind with his car. Inquiry in his home city brought no light on the subject, but an investigation at the secretary of state's office revealed that the name of one of the young men involved in the Fairfax Falls truck incident, which was borrowed to convey them to a dance and then went into the river, was Raymond Bushey. Finding among the auto owners in the state one by the name, the authorities concluded him to be the one who had appeared in the other matter and promptly sent word to the St. Albans man, who did not even know the other parties, that his license was revoked. As soon as he established his identity, he was told he might operate his car. The Raymond Bushey that was involved in the trouble did not own a car.

VERMONTERS WON 31 MEDALS.

At Eastern States Exposition at Springfield, Mass.

At Camp Vail, boys' and girls' club work exhibit, Eastern States exposition, Springfield, Mass., week ending Sept. 29. 45 Vermont boys and girls with 12 adult leaders were in attendance. Fourteen standard club teams represented Vermont. Eleven of these teams entered demonstration and judging contests in eight different projects, in competition with similar teams from the other nine northeastern states. The Vermont teams won a total of 31 medals, including 10 firsts, or gold medals. The handicraft team from St. Johnsbury won first in both judging and demonstration work. The poultry demonstration team from Pittsford also won first and three gold medals. Henley Webster of Georgia, a member of the dairy cow judging team, won the second best individual record as dairy cow judge in a field of 55 competitors, taking as a prize the purebred Ayshire calf valued at $200, given by Horace A. Morse, Wrentham farm, Westfield, Mass. Donald Dunsmore, St. Albans, won a prize of $100 for second best rating in the Holstein class. A blue ribbon, given by the Holstein-Friesian Breeders' association. Albert Hally, Lyndon, won second best individual score as poultry judge, and received a pen of five purebred white leghorn fowls, given by the Connecticut State Poultry association.

Vermont boys and girls lived in camp upon the exposition grounds, together with 300 boys and girls and 50 club leaders from the ten northeastern states. These young people represented standard clubs in White River Junction, St. Johnsbury, West Rutland, Brandon, Pittsford, Richmond and St. Albans. They won the trip through contests in their respective local fields, their county fairs and the Vermont State fair. Nine of these teams, by terms of the contests, won their trip and subsistence which were furnished by the Eastern States Association, the Vermont State fair and the Vermont State Bankers' association.

In addition to the team winnings, many Vermont boys and girls won medals and ribbons in exhibits of home products, representing all classes of home project work.

The Chautauque Guarantee in Brandon.

The good people of Brandon who have just gone into their pockets to the extent of over $15 a head, to make up the deficit of the so-called chautauque course of entertainments recently given in that village may well question the judgment of their fellow citizens, to the number of 100, who have agreed to guarantee a similar course in 1920. As has been stated before, and has become well recognized in an increasing number of Vermont communities, the managers of these various chautauque institutions that promote courses of entertainments are pretty long-headed and persuasive. There is nothing to be said against the benefit to any town of a high grade course of lectures and musicals. The only criticism that is to be offered is of the business judgment of those people who insist on doing all the work and taking all of the chances and letting the out-of-state bureau have all of the pecuniary profits.—Rutland News.

AMUSEMENT NOTES

De Rue Bros' Ideal Minstrels at Opera House Thursday, Oct. 2.

The De Rue Bros' Ideal Minstrels, which are to appear at the Barre opera house on Thursday, Oct. 2, shall always, as in seasons previous, present a performance that is clean and classic and honest, with fair treatment to the public, and truly advertised. This year they present an entire change of performance, with new vaudeville features. Not one stale or worn-out act, and we feel confident we shall please our friends to such an extent that they will pronounce us the one and only truly advertised minstrel company that visits your city this season, for we have gathered together the most expensive array of talent from American and European agents that was ever engaged under one minstrel management. Don't fail to see the great street parade and to hear the solo band concerts on the day of the show. Prices, 35c, 50c and $75, plus war tax—adv.

"Fair and Warmer."

Spaeth & Co. will present their extraordinary farce success, "Fair and Warmer." Avery Hopwood's topmost achievement in mirthmaking, at the opera house on Wednesday, Oct. 1. This delicate bubbling farce, with uncountable laughs in its three acts, ran so long and so profitably at the Harris theatre that before the end of its first six months it had been heralded all over the country as the farce hit of its decade, and demands for its out-of-town presentation had poured in to insure its welcome when Spaeth & Co. should send it on tour—adv.
